Transcript: Tour Tidbit – Yender Outhouse

Hey everyone! My name is Concetta and I'm the Museum Manager and curator at The Museums at Lisle Station Park. I'll be putting some thoughts together for this Tour Tidbit. So pull up a chair, and some pictures of this mini-sode's century-old historically significant focus, the Yender Outhouse.

A good place to find us is on our Clio walking tour, by going to www.theclio.com [SPELL] and typing in Lisle Illinois in the top search bar [SPELL]. You'll see all of our Clio walking tour entries pop up when you scroll down, so make sure you pick the Yender Outhouse. If you're already on a virtual field trip with us, you're a step ahead and already have the link. Hit the pause button and pull it up, I'll wait for you.

Indoor plumbing didn't get installed in Lisle until the middle of the 1900s. For hundreds of years, people used outhouses instead, including the Netzleys, Yenders, and everyone else who lived and worked in Lisle. This outhouse was built by George and Mary Yender's family and was their main and only bathroom. One of George and Mary's sons, Andy, said that it was exactly 40 steps from the house's back door to the outhouse. And it's a three-seater!

Take a look at our online resources for pictures and more! And field trippers – don't forget to check your instructions page to see everything we gave you!

You can find us on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter @LisleMuseum, or on our website by going to www.lisleparkdistrict.org and clicking on Facilities at the top. Or you can Google us, that usually works too. Thanks for listening, from Lisle, Illinois...and everywhere else, where history is being made every minute!

Our theme song was created by Big Cats.
